

COVID-19 & PREGNANCY STUDY

VOLUNTEER FROM YOUR HOME TODAY

MotherToBaby Pregnancy Studies is currently enrolling women in an observational study to understand COVID-19 infection & its treatment in pregnancy.

If you have been exposed to or diagnosed with COVID-19 in a current or recent pregnancy, please sign up for our observational research study.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Women in the United States and Canada with known or suspected COVID-19 infection at any point during a current or recent pregnancy or within 30 days of the last menstrual period before conception.

WHAT IS INVOLVED?

- 1-3 phone calls over the course of your pregnancy and 1+ call post-delivery
- Release of medical records related to the pregnancy and the infant's development
- No changes to treatment or travel required
- In some cases, up to two free optional COVID-19 antibody tests during pregnancy
